Book "Direct Conversation Technique for Radio Amateurs" was published in Moscow in 1990 year. The book was compliance of two early published two books- "Direct Conversation Transceivers" (the book was published in 1984) and "Direct Conversation Receivers" (the book was published in 1981). Lots new stuff there was added to the "Direct Conversation Technique for Radio Amateurs." The book was very popular among radio amateurs of the USSR and then ex- USSR countries. I can say that the book was a Bible Book for Direct Conversation Technique. The book was published in 200, 000 copies so lots amateurs could have access to the book. The book gave way to amateur radio for many beginner hams. As well the book inspired experiments with Direct Conversation Technique.

I have all three books written by RA3AAE. Lots hours were spending with soldering iron and one of the books. The book was found in the internet at public domain (I really do not remember where I found it) and now the book available at ANTENTOP site. Such books cannot be disappeared. It should be serve for Radio Amateurs for long years.
